

Ask Province To Assume Half Highway Costs

CALGARY, Nov. 2 (CP)—Asserting the provincial highways within many urban municipalities are "in a deplorable state of disrepair," a resolution passed yesterday by the Union of Alberta Municipalities urged the Alberta government to maintain these highways on a 50-50 cost basis with the municipality concerned.

The resolution, one of a number passed at the afternoon session, stated the towns and villages had neither the machinery nor facilities for the proper maintenance and repair of highways within their boundaries.

Speaking in support of the motion, Mayor R. H. Jones of Ponoka said the probable reason why nothing had been done so far was that the municipalities had asked "the whole lot."

"It is only fair that we should assume some of the responsibility," he added.

COST SAID MORE

He said it cost municipalities "five times as much" to do the work as it did the government and he thought the government should bear assistance. He urged municipalities received a grant, and the same principle should apply to towns.

Stating it was generally recognized that the cost of highway maintenance was too high, a resolution launched by the city of Edmonton and passed by the other municipalities present, called for setting up a committee to study and report on the "feasibility of a co-operative highway maintenance scheme."

Removal of the tax on bequests made to schools and school districts for educational purposes was sought in another resolution passed by the meeting. It pointed out that only gifts to the University of Alberta for such purposes were now exempt from duties under the Alberta Succession Duties Act.

Persons Unknown Defaced Ballots

REGINA, Nov. 2 (CP)—W. M. Rose of Moose Jaw (communication counsel), submitted in brief read in his absence yesterday no direct or circumstantial evidence had been adduced pointing to the identity of the person or persons responsible for irregularities alleged to have occurred in Melville riding in the June 11 federal general election.

It was apparent, said Mr. Rose, that 12 ballots had been marked or defaced, and the witness of evidence showed this had been done after the ballots had been placed in a box at Poll 50, a rural poll in the Goodwin district. It appeared, too, that whoever was responsible for the irregularities intended to deface the ballots in question to be discovered.

Says No Priority To Officers' Wives Coming To Canada

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—Officers' wives have no priority over the wives of other ranks on shipping space from the United Kingdom to Canada, Defence Minister Abbott said last night in the Commons.

Priority was given on compassionate grounds to widows and to wives whose husbands already have returned to Canada and been discharged. Every effort was being made to bring the wives back, but personnel who have been away from their wives in Canada were given priority in transportation to this country.

Mr. Abbott said efforts were being made to obtain more shipping for the wives.

Defence Minister Announces

Post-War Army Composition

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—Plans for Canada's permanent post-war army of 20,000 to 25,000 men call for a brigade group augmented by two armored regiments and one medium artillery battery, Defence Minister Abbott said yesterday in the Commons.

This force would have the usual administrative and training elements to assist the Reserve Army, including a coastal artillery battery on each coast and a composite anti-aircraft battery. There also would be staffs, service and personnel for scientific development.

The main element of the proposed brigade group would be three field batteries, a field artillery regiment of three field batteries, an anti-tank battery and a field company of engineers, together with signals, medical and staff units, maintenance workshops and other essential elements.

NO ADDITIONS

This line-up would seem to indicate there will be no additions to the five permanent force regiments of pre-war years. There were three infantry regiments—the Royal 22nd, the Royal Canadian Regiment and the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry. The two pre-war cavalry regiments—Lord Strathcona Horse and the Royal Canadian Dragoons—now are armored regiments. However, the total pre-war strength of the army was only 5,000.

Before Mr. Abbott made his statement, the house heard from Labor Minister Mitchell that he had not received definite reply from the company or union on the proposals he made Monday for ending the month-long strike of 10,000 workers at the Ford Motor plant at Windsor, Ont.

Meanwhile, Minister Howe said the report of a government investigator who inquired into the affairs of Eldorado Mining Co., source of uranium for atomic bombs, would be tabled in the House when it was received by the government.

Gordon Graydon (PC-Peel) pressed for the immediate establishment of a special committee on the CBC but Veterans' Minister Mackenzie said there were motions on the order paper for the establishment of two important committees but the time of the House had been "wasted" for the last two weeks.

At the night sitting the house turned to an item-by-item examination of the army estimates.

NO PRIORITIES

In reply to questions, Mr. Abbott said officers' wives had no priority over the wives of other ranks on shipping space from the United Kingdom to Canada. Stories were being made to obtain more space for wives but he did not believe it would be economical or efficient to send husbands, wives and children home in the same ship.

In his statement on the post-war army, made during resumed discussion of army estimates, Mr. Abbott said present plans were tentative pending a "clearer" definition of Canada's future military obligations under any world security organization.

The post-war army would fall into two parts: a full-time permanent employed active force and a part-time reserve organization.

Arrange Sailings

Canadian Troops

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP)—The 26,000 ton liner Empire of Scotland will sail for Halifax Nov. 22, carrying some 4,000 Canadian servicemen and women, Canadian military headquarters announced yesterday.

This raises the total November departure to 14,000 troops, approximately 17,000. The Queen Elizabeth, scheduled to sail from Southampton Nov. 18, will carry the greatest number of troops, some 12,000.

His Majesty's Canadian-manufactured aircraft carrier, will sail Nov. 12 with 800 service personnel and the Lady Rodney also sails this month with about 600. The exact sailing date of the Rodney is not yet known.

Queen Wilhelmina Visits in Britain

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP)—Queen Wilhelmina of The Netherlands came to London yesterday to pay her respects to Britain's Royal Family. to make up the difference between the South African and the Canadian rates of pay of the difference.

He asked if the government would do this and whether, upon demobilization, their gratuities and rehabilitation credits would be based on the South African or the Canadian basis.

Mr. Abbott said he would inquire into the situation.

At Aug. 31 this year the total was 18,750.

Mr. Abbott said 4,900 deserters and absentees were apprehended during the period from Jan. 1, 1944, to Aug. 31, 1945.

ORDERS WERE CAUSE

He agreed with Garfield Case (PC-Grey North) that it was a "pretty fair assumption" that the notification to NRMA men to proceed overseas last winter was the cause of the sharp increase in desertions at that period.

Mr. Graydon brought up the matter of 200 Canadian nurses who had been enlisted by the South African government in Canada for nursing service in South Africa on a one-year contract which stipulated they would receive £22, £800 a month.

However, he said, when the girls reached the theatre domain £28 (£35) monthly was deducted from their salary for what was called maintenance charges and what he presumed was board and lodging. In the event, Canadian Army Medical Corps these girls would have received a straight £28 a day and subsistence allowance.

Mr. Graydon said the South African government should be asked to make good the difference.

Plan to Nationalize Overseas Telegraph

LONDON, Nov. 2 (CP)—Alfred Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer, announced yesterday in the House of Commons the Labor government's decision to nationalize Britain's tele-communications services, the biggest step required to set up an integrated communications system throughout the Commonwealth.

Cable and Wireless Limited, the £100,000,000 company which controls Britain's main tele-communications system, will be taken over by the government under public ownership by legislation to be introduced "in due course," he said.

Only a few days ago the South African and Australian governments announced they plan similar action affecting tele-communications with other parts of the Commonwealth. It is presumed that Canada, New Zealand and India shortly will follow suit.

The plan concerns only tele-communications links between the various Commonwealth countries and not the internal tele-communications systems of these countries. Thus it is understood that if Canada takes similar action the government would only take over the facilities of Canadian Marconi.

Give Upkeep Cost Of All Drafts During War Period

OTTAWA, Nov. 2 (CP)—Upkeep of National Resources Mobilization Act troops cost an estimated $2,573,753 from 1941 to the end of the first six months of the current fiscal year, Defence Minister Abbott said yesterday in the Commons.

The estimate cost of NIMA troops per year was 1940-41, $7,234,402; 1941-42, $11,731,736; 1942-43, $20,732,140; 1943-44, $25,566,566; 1944-45, $66,065,418; 1945-46 (est. monthly), $1,427,855.

of the city council for 10 years and you are satisfied to have this council?

There were several loud cries of "No."

Four years ago the Journal said I was not a fit candidate and I was after election said the vote represented the extent in which the citizens held me.

BLOCKING TACTICS

Three years ago the Citizens' Committee tried to block Mayor Dry off the ticket. That's "Tammy" Tammy.

I finally have been able to trace the origin of some of the rumors which have been going the round of the city. First rumor is that I am opposed to trolley buses. This is false. I am opposed to any increase in the railway fares which may be urged because of the increased up-keep of the buses. The second is that I am opposed to the remodeling of the Dawson Creek house for the returned men. This too is false. I repeat very much that this country and this city cannot furnish our returned men with better accommodation. The third rumor is that I am not in support of showing preference for returned men.

Capt. J. Harper Prowse is the "Ladies of the Civic Democratic Alliance and Harold Tanner and Harry Lynn are on my nomination papers. I am not claiming the support of the organizations of which they are officers. These men certainly would not support me if I were antagonistic to returned men. This city has been controlled for the last 10 years by the candidates of the so-called Citizens' Committee and they have boasted they can continue to do the next 20 years. I serve as such a false. These men as candidates have no policy to put before the people. They merely ask you to vote for the citizens' vote.

PASS BOOK

The council has been guilty of passing the buck to the committees until the commissioners have been doing the legislative work for them. They are not to blame. It has been taken for granted that all that was needed was to get a nomination from the Citizens' Committee and election was assured.

This year another citizens' organization has been set up, a real citizens' committee which at an open public meeting nominated and chose their own candidates. No committee was chosen to do this work. The public meeting did it in a democratic way. The candidates represent a true cross section of the citizens.

The Citizens' Committee has five members on the city council and that is enough to represent their point of view.

I am not blaming the condition of the city on the war-time council. But the Citizens' Committee candidates have controlled the city for over ten years so that they cannot blame their inactivity on the war condition.

People in all parts of the city are demanding a change. The time has come for action and the people have left him in the old policy to get it.

STREET POLICY

We need a new policy for our streets if we are to get the improvements necessary. Private cars and delivery trucks are worn out plowing through the mud and ruts. As long as all the cost of decent streets is chargeable against the property fronting on the road, we cannot get them improved except in those sections of the city where the people can afford the greatly increased taxation. These streets are public right-of-way and their improvement is a public service and therefore the greater amount of the cost should be a public charge.

Our whole transportation system needs a thorough reworking. I am opposed to the buses going over the high level bridge at this time. Not merely because of any danger but because the expenditure of $280,000 merely to cross the bridge cannot be justified while so many districts are without any transportation at all.

If I am elected mayor my office in the city hall will be open to all citizens to give constructive criticism and they will be courteously received and considered. Every person will get a square deal from the humblest worker to the biggest business man.

Aid. Ainlay was asked: "What would you do about the Madeline hotel site?"

Answer: From my information the improvement would have been done by the CNR, but when the station was built the people are inclined to get mixed up between homes and shelter.

Let's look at the immediate shortage of reasonable shelter for a moment. The shortage of shelter arises as a consequence of war—it arises not from lack of money but from lack of materials. That lack of materials was caused by war, and the problem it creates is not a responsibility of the unfortunate individual who suffers, but the responsibility of all of us.

HOUSING PROBLEMS

And so it is with housing. Housing of course is our number one problem at the moment. But housing must be looked at from two aspects. Providing immediate emergency accommodation on the one hand and making possible the building of good permanent homes on the other. Don't let anyone confuse these questions if you want straight thinking. People are inclined to get mixed up between homes and shelter.

Let's look at the immediate shortage of reasonable shelter for a moment. The shortage of shelter arises as a consequence of war—it arises not from lack of money but from lack of materials. That lack of materials was caused by war, and the problem it creates is not a responsibility of the unfortunate individual who suffers, but the responsibility of all of us.

That lack of materials and of an organized local effort to overcome it, was and is the only justification for the Dawson Creek Housing project. I know because while Mayor Dry was ill for two months last spring, it was up to me as acting mayor together with the other commissioners to conduct the negotiations with provincial government officials.

So there is no doubt about it I want to tell you that the city-provincial agreement was a good deal for Edmonton and still is. It made available materials that were then in short supply; it provided security to those who were most entitled to it; it provided a reasonable 3 per cent. rate of interest to the province and reasonable taxes to the city with the resulting low split 90-10. No other city in Canada has made a deal such as that—and I'm proud of my part in it and grateful to the ministers and officials of the provincial government who gave their cooperation. But Dawson Creek has no temporary shelter.

LONG RANGE PROBLEM

Let's look at the long range housing problems. Mr. Ainlay's ad. or the C.D.A. ad. in today's paper says, "Back a progressive city housing scheme—It means a long range city house building scheme. I am not it. I say the city's job is to play out of housing except in emergency."

National Housing Administration will provide the money. Individuals can plan their own homes where and how they want them and practical building methods build them. The returned men I have talked to want the city to help locate immediate shelter, but when it comes to building their permanent homes they want to do it themselves.

The mayor and council should run the city—they shouldn't try to run the citizens.

Rice Sheppard, independent alderman, I want to see our returned men boys and their families with decent homes. I will fight for better jobs and street car service, with no increase in fares, and I am not in favor of raising buses over the high level bridge. I want to see an effective improvement in our city's parks, lanes, streets and parking grounds, with the city paying a fair share of the cost of these improvements. The city needs a pure water supply, and above all, no radiation of dumps. Don't give me all your votes just one which will do and don't forget to buy.

We asked that our fighting men be given a good start in civilian life.

We asked that our sick and wounded be given the best possible care.

We asked that the families of those who gave their lives be well provided for.

We asked that the best of everything be given those who sacrificed most to make Victory possible.

NOW--it's up to us, every last one of us, to see they get it!

GUIDANCE OFFICERS

There is a lot of potential genius in different lines in Edmonton's schools to fully develop their natural talent. My idea is that high schools should have guidance officers to assist in this respect, and while I say this may I add that Edmonton can be very proud of the school teachers we have today.

Before we go ahead and say let us build a school here or there I say let us have it properly surveyed by a proper educationist.

The speaker was questioned as follows: Are you in favor of the extended teaching of the hazards of intolerance in the curriculum?

Answer: Yes, I am very much in favor of it.

Are you in favor of spending $1,500,000 of the taxpayers' money for a composite high school, with all modern facilities, which would be concentrated in one section of the city?

A—I am in favor of looking after the urgent needs of the other schools first, and then considering the composite high school.

J. H. Dowler, Civic Democratic Alliance, aldermanic, I can assure you that I am tied to nobody. I am pledged to nobody. The only pledge I take is that I will try to carry out the platform of the Civic Democratic Alliance because I believe it has good, substantial points. Giving all due consideration to the present council I don't think we have been making the progress which should have been made during the war years.

At this juncture occurred the exchange between the speaker and Aid. Winslow Hamilton.

Mr. Dowler had reached the point in his speech where he said:

"BUSINESSMEN'S COUNCIL"

"The citizens are again being asked to elect a council of businessmen appointed by the board of trade and supported by the Edmonton Journal."

Leaping to his feet, Aid. Hamilton, who addressed the meeting previously and was seated in the audience, cried out: "A point of order, Mr. Chairman. No candidate is entitled to make statements reflecting on the integrity of the said board of trade or of the citizens when there are no facts to back the statement. I demand a retraction."

There were some cries of "retraction" from the audience.

Mr. Dowler continued with: "I will say that I always had the opinion that the Citizens' Committee candidates were appointed by the board of trade."

Again Aid. Hamilton interrupted with a vigorous: "I don't care about his opinion, Mr. Chairman. It is not so that the Citizens' Committee candidates were appointed by the board of trade. Give the people the facts."

CHAIRMAN'S RULING

"(The meeting Mr. Dowler) has the right to state that in his opinion the candidates are appointed that way." Chairman Jones ruled and Mr. Dowler concluded his speech with further interruptions.

Later, when Aid. Garripy was speaking another interruption occurred, this time by Mr. Dowler.

After stating that the Civic Democratic Alliance was the only party to stand for the people, he said:

mercator Alliance should be called the "troubled party" because the candidates are of all colors. Aid, Gariepy said: "I have nothing to say against opposing candidates as individuals but when they call allegations that amount to a lie or close to a lie they should retract."

ASKS RETRACTION

Blaming his feet, Mr. Dowler also demanded a retraction. "I have said nothing I know to be a lie," he said.

The matter was then dropped by Mr. Gariepy, after some smiling banter between the two.

Continuing, Mr. Dowler said:

TRANSPORTATION SYSTEM

Are we satisfied with our transportation system? It was built wrong in the first place—in my opinion. Too much stress has been laid by the businessmen's council on running the city as a business project, and not enough on service to the people.

I think Mr. Ainsley is going to be Edmonton's next mayor, but I have hostile aldermen working with him who would not improve the situation nor work toward the needed harmony. I therefore urge you to vote for the complete slate of Civic Democratic Alliance candidates.

As I said that running this city is not a business project, he was asked:

Do. Certainly, but there are other considerations in the city that have a bearing on the human side of business.

Mrs. Julia Kinski, Independent alderman, being a number of a returned boy, I have gone through the difficulties that only a mother knows. Let us face the facts. When I offered myself for election, I did so without any thought of getting there by hook or by crook. But all these city fathers—they seem interested only in their $40 a month for going to a few council meetings. I have heard a lot about people living in tents and shacks, and I believe, and I have seen these things.

MUST FACE FACTS

I visited a neighbor who had been living under these conditions for some time. She told me she had been waiting for two months for a house.

for the Inspector or her living quarters by the city Inspector—this by the time he could have come from Russia. Let us face the facts. The business men think they are the only ones who have the brains to run this city.

If I am elected I will deal first of all with child delinquency, called by society young criminals. After that I will fight for women and orphan, and will give my attention to other matters after these are looked after.

Mrs. E. S. Haynes, Civic Democratic Alliance, school board: In the center of this city is a church known as First Street and Jasper. If you go south from the corner you come to a building known as the Edmonton Journal building.

Across from it there is a church. In the basement of that church there has been for some years past a blood donors' clinic. Half a block up the street there now stands a house where Victory bonds may be bought.

Down these streets not very long ago the citizens lined up to welcome home The Royal Edmonton Legionnaires. There were many empty places in that regiment. Men who now live in the meadows of Europe and the desert of Africa; their final resting place is marked only by a small white cross, just as in 1914 in Flanders and France.

THOUGHT WOULD SAFE In 1918 the boys that returned home from the war were given their lives to make the world safe for democracy; a democracy that was a business project.

A number of good citizens who gave their blood, bought bonds and saw their boys go to war have banded together to see that this does not happen again. This is the Civic Democratic Alliance. They have pledged themselves to the fact that the officers do not recur, but that a new and better one is tried.

J. B. Gillis, Civic Democratic Alliance, alderman: I have been in the city for 25 years. I have taken a great interest in its development and in its social services. A few years ago the Edmonton Co-operative Building Association was formed. At that time 65 homes have been built at a total value of more than $200,000. While others have been talking we have been doing things.

The real need is having hundreds of thousands of dollars revenue to the city, and this money is being used in various ways, but my idea is that these funds should be earmarked for a campaign of education to fit the pocket of the man with the small income. The city, through their plan of selling these lots are forcing people to the outskirts. I think the price of these lands should have been kept at the pre-war level.

Q.—What is the Civic Democratic Alliance's view regarding this?

A.—We feel the city should not have raised the price of these lots during wartime, and that they should have extended them to the public on the basis of a long-term amortized plan.

PROUDLY DISPLAY V-FLAG—Employees of the CPR's south Edmonton locomotive and car shops are seen receiving their Victory Loan pennant following an impressive campaign which netted more than $10,000. Of a total staff of 60 men 57 had "signed their name to Victory," and it was expected that 100 per cent participation would be achieved before the close of the campaign. Above are shown a group of the employees after receiving their pennant from W. A. Mather, Winnipeg, vice-president western lines. From left to right they are: J. R. Strother, superintendent, Edmonton Division; Mr. Mather, and holding the flag which they accepted on behalf of the employees, are George Simpson, Neil Law and James Young.

alderman: The reason I am running is because the Canadian Labor Party has folded up. I have been a trades unionist for 40 years and my railroad friends asked me to stand for alderman. I have lived in Edmonton since 1910. I have seen all kinds of city councils in that time and I am getting tired seeing the people who pay the taxes ignored.

We need fewer promises and more deeds.

While a citizen of Edmonton has ever made application for a playground in your district?

As a No.

Archibald Allen, speaking for Peter Collins, Civic Democratic Alliance, alderman: Mr. Collins has a bad cold tonight. He has been in the hospital since 1906 and since 1903 has been an executive of the United Mine Workers. He has also worked in mines himself.

If elected he would bring the perspective of a worker, and executive and a companion for those who side and make everything a matter of dollars and cents.

There is a street car bottleneck at 101 street and Jasper avenue. There should be better connection.

Perhaps the city should do its own paving and use the money saved for the recreation facilities. Mrs. Mary Butterworth, Citizens' Committee, school board: Edmonton needs a new deal in education. The school standards are wrong. The school children have to stand for the bridge to Garneau. We need new schools and enlargements of others. Some schools have vacant rooms while there is a great over-crowding in others.

There should be more civic funds for recreation. The aldermen pay $100 a month. We get not a nickel from the provincial government for education.

Believe It Or Not

Today's Sport Parade

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(BUP)—Lenny "Boom Boom" Mancini, the most prominent active boxer to earn a purple heart during the war, frowns upon suggestions that his handle be changed to "Triple Boom" or "Boom Boom Boom."

Now that he has returned to the ring, Mancini, top lightweight contender when he entered the army in 1941, objects to the third "boom" because it was given him by the Germans last Nov. 10 during five fighting outside Metz, France.

The Jervise dropped a mortal shell on seven yards from where Lenny was stretched out, trying to get a shot at a German sniper. Private Mancini was struck by six fragments, wounding him in the spine, the shoulders, left arm, left leg and right foot. Four hours later the medics reached him. He spent eight months in hospitals in France, England, Scotland and the United States. Surgeons extracted all but two shrapnel.

GOING STRONG
Mancini of Youngstown, O., might have become lightweight champion had not the war shifted him to the bigger fight with the 25th Infantry division of General Patton's third army. He was really ruffing before entering service in Nov. 1941. In March of that year, he lost a split decision to Sammy Angott, the National Boxing Association's lightweight king. He came back to beat such nobilities as Terry Young, Joey Perella and Dave Cullison, and negotiations for a return Angott bout were under way when he joined the army.

A month after Mancini entered service, Angott defeated Lew Jenkins. Now Mancini's camp, and became undoubted world champion. "So you can see what a beautiful spot Lenny was in when he joined up," manager Jacobs emphasizes.

Don "Boom Boom" figure he had tough luck. "Listen," says 26-year-old Mancini, "in the luckiest year in the world to be a boxer."

It was being exactly in the spot where that shell exploded, just three minutes before it landed. I had to move because the German sniper was coming too close for comfort—kicking sand into my face.

As for Angott, unintentionally saves your life, and when you recover from wounds the way I did—brother, that's luck with an "L" as big as the Empire State building.

Mancini's swiftness, sworded Italian—fight as a welterweight now. He packs 148 pounds on a chop-pee-down, five-foot-three frame, and looks almost as broad as he is tall.

Manager Frankie Jacobs says, "Lenny was the lightweight contender when he went into the army, and he'll be the No. 1 welterweight contender in about six months. Nobody can stop him. Although he was a front-line fighter in France, he's a human link in the ring. He just keeps piling in, throwing punches from going to get. In 50 professional fights, he's never been knocked out—technically or otherwise."

BACK IN THE RING
AT FIRST it was feared "Boom Boom" would be paralyzed, because the most serious wound was at the base of his spine. Later the physicians figured he would be left with only a permanent limp. But now the war-scarred leather-tossing is back in the ring, apparently as good as new. He has had two fights and won both, taking eight round decisions over Baby Sims and Patsy Spalato. And next Tuesday night he gets a three-round test against Steve Riggio at the Broadway arena. Riggio holds two decisions over Rocky Graziano, the ring's new "Golden Boy."

Jacobs Likely to Charge $100 for Ringside Seats

By WHITNEY MARTIN

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—One business axiom is that on a free and competitive market, a commodity may be sold for whatever the market will bear, regardless of quality.

So if Mike Jacobs can peddle the Billy Conn-Louis fight for $100 a ringside seat, he couldn't be expected to sell the observation seats for $10 a throw even if he knew the production due to age and deterioration of the leading characters would be no bargain at $1.98.

In other words, Mr. Jacobs will get for his seats all the public will pay, and if he can find backers enough to fill up the ringside seats at $100 a throw, that's his privilege, and also would seem to be good business acumen.

Mr. Jacobs professes to be no altruistic motive in planning the fight. It's obviously nothing more than a business proposition with him, and also would seem to be to make as much money as he can. The only price ceiling is his conscience, that, and the ability to find enough buyers for his wares.

Mr. Jacobs' fight is worth $100 a seat is neither here nor there. It all depends on an individual's sense of values. Some people wouldn't pay $100 for a ringside seat at the battle of Leningrad but would pay $100 to hear a lecture on the Einstein theory. Others wouldn't give a cent to hear a lecture on the Einstein theory but would pay $100 to watch a fight between two large physical specimens with nothing more created by some character trying to beat all the scientists in the world.

Others wouldn't give a cent to hear a lecture on the Einstein theory but would pay $100 to watch a fight between two large physical specimens with nothing more created by some character trying to beat all the scientists in the world.

Ottawa Riders Keep New Back Under Blanket

OTTAWA, Nov. 2.—(CP)—The Ottawa Rough Riders have dropped a veil of secrecy around their new passing sensation, 21-year-old Steve Marko, who hails from West Chester, Pa., a suburb of Philadelphia.

The Riders, preparing for the opening of the interprovincial rugby football union play-offs against Argonauts at Toronto next Saturday, held a two-hour drill Wednesday under the watchful eye of each Rough Riders coach. Marko was very much in evidence.

However, manager Jim McCall, who declined to permit reporters to interview the 206-pound backfielder.

Marko was "nobody's business" except officials of the Ottawa club and the league executive, said McCall. "The executive knows all that needs to be known about Marko, and he is eligible to play."

He wondered so far from home still is a mystery, although Ted Reber, Toronto Evening Telegram sports columnist, avers that Marko was sent to Ottawa from the Phil Eagles' who played in the United States Professional League. Marko was imported by the Riders as a player and played as a coach the club in the old golden era of Canadian football.

The Capitals widened their western division lead over Pittsburgh by three points and remained the only undefeated team in the league.

The Capitals spread their scoring among all three lines and one goal before Marko's debut. The starting line of Wechs, Les Bouquies and Bud McKee passed Buffalo goalie Frank Corvino five times, and the league-leading line of Jerry Brown, Les Lewis and Tony Bukovich scored three goals. Roy Houshagel of the third line scored twice and determined Hugh Miller got the other.

There has been a 14 per cent increase in home consumption of American-made matches in the last six years.

Indianapolis Caps Remain Unbeaten
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Coach John Sorelli's huddling Indianapolis Capitals retained 6,033 American Hockey League fans as one of the greatest offensive exhibitions ever staged here as they defeated Buffalo Blues, 11-2 last night.

Paced by winger Steve Wechs, who scored three times, the Capitals rang around the Buffalo defense.

Threatens Cancel Jacobs' Licence If No N.Y. Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 2.—(AP)—Much to Mike Jacobs' surprise, State Athletic Commission Chairman Eddie Egan was quoted in a copyright story in Ring Magazine as threatening to revoke Mike Jacobs' fighting licence if he takes next June's Joe Louis-Billy Conn bout out of New York.

After reading the story, written by Nat Friesher, long-time editor of Ring, Mike couldn't figure out (a) just how Egan could go right about now, and (b) why Egan didn't tell him personally.

"The very much surprised at Egan," he said. "Sure, the commission has spoken to me several times about how much he'd like to have the fight in New York. But he's never threatened me."

Egan himself could not be reached for verification or expansion of the statement.

University Plans Memorial Service

The university is holding its customary memorial service in Convocation hall on Nov. 11, commencing at 10:30 a.m.

This year the service will be of a somewhat special nature in that the memorial organ, which was originally installed in memory of those who died in the First Great War, will be rededicated to those men who fell during the years 1939 to 1945.

A special invitation to attend this service will be issued to the service's staff in case any such person is inadvertently missed. It is hoped that they will feel free to attend.

At this time it is not possible to communicate with the next-of-kin of those men who fell in the first Great War, hence it is hoped that any such persons will also feel that they are invited to attend this ceremony.

Four Soldiers Die In Truck Accident

WINDSOR, N.S., Nov. 2.—(CP)—Plunged over a 30-foot embankment in a Canadian army truck, four soldiers died last night in an automobile accident at Newport, 10 miles from here. Four other soldiers in the vehicle were injured.

GRADUATES.—Mr. L. H. E. Jones, A.F.C. who has graduated at Winnipeg as a Trans-Canada Air Lines pilot, with the rank of first officer. He enlisted in the RCAF at Edmonton, Alta., and previously resided at Salmon Arm and Fernie, B.C. He attended college in Regina and will be stationed with Trans-Canada Air Lines in Montreal, N.B.

Others in the vehicle were injured. Four of the killed and injured soldiers were being withheld by army authorities until the next-of-kin could be notified.

Official Tells Of Rotary Aims In Coming Age

Objective of Rotary clubs throughout the world is to strive tirelessly toward establishing a sound foundation for international accord and understanding necessary to universal tranquillity. Fred K. Jones, Spokane, director of Rotary International, told more than 100 members of the Edmonton Rotary club Thursday, at their meeting in the Macdonald.

Mr. Jones is in Edmonton in the course of a tour of Rotary districts throughout North America and which will take him eventually as far south as Mexico. The last week he has spoken before Rotary clubs at The Pias, Flin Flon, Saskatoon and Calgary.

"It is the determination of Rotary that there will be no repetition of war, and that will be the main goal of Rotary's 'objective program,'" continued the international director.

AIDED 'FRISCO MEET

Rotary had been one of the service clubs taking an active part in the San Francisco security conference and as such had assisted in the drafting of the United Nations charter. For the part played by Rotarians in the shaping of the charter, tribute had been paid by the tag secretary of state, Edward P. Scollins, said Mr. Jones.

"This charter was accepted by all participating nations with the exception of Russia," Mr. Jones remarked.

Emerging from the charter was the Economic and Social Council, an instrument providing wide opportunity for Rotarians to do something concrete for international peace, he said.

There were many definitions of the principles of Rotary, "but the one I prefer is the simple application of the Golden Rule—do unto others as you would have them do unto you," said Mr. Jones.

EUROPE SITUATION—"Rotary is coming back in Europe, and that's the way it should be," he said. Reports he had received from Europe warned that it would be a slow process with the necessity of "renewing" the former membership, but already progress had been made.

There were 5,000 Rotary clubs with almost 250,000 members distributed through 62 geographical units of the globe, he said.

During the war Rotary had contributed much in money and in men, he continued, but now that the battle phase had terminated it was the duty of Rotary to seek lasting peace on earth, and to use its influence toward this end of every opportunity.

Introduction of Mr. Jones was made by past director Oliver McIntyre, who voiced the club's welcome and expression of thanks for the visit of its international director, Gordon Henry, the president, was chairman of the meeting.

No Shortage Of Potatoes Likely Here

Shortage of potatoes in Western Canada this season will not mean that Edmonton tables will lack this essential vegetable, according to a prices board official Thursday morning, following an announcement wired to the local offices of the trade board that to meet the shortage of potatoes in Canada, authority had been granted to import them from the United States.

Officials have known that there was short supply of potatoes in this district ever since September's early frost, which hindered late-developing plants. But they point out that the lifting of restrictions on imports will mean that there will be ample supplies to meet local demands.

SCARCE IN SASK.

In southern Saskatchewan there just aren't any potatoes, said a local food distribution officer, and it is to aid that section of the country in particular that American potatoes are being allowed to cross the border.

Prices here will be higher than last year, however, but consumers are informed that the price ceiling will be maintained, and that vegetables will probably be sold at the top price permitted. Last year the local market had a sufficient supply so that the tubers were on the market at considerably less than current price.

It is emphasized by prices board officials that there is no occasion for "panic" buying in this area, since the importation of the American product will eliminate any danger of local shortages becoming acute.

Calgary's Charter Amendment Signed

Under-manned authorizing an amendment of the Calgary city charter was signed by the Lieutenant-Governor in Council Wednesday afternoon. It was learned at the Legislative building here Thursday morning.

Purpose of the order is to restore qualifications to vote election to veteran-candidates who might otherwise have forfeited them, by a technicality, during their absence on active service.

The order is tentative, and subject to ratification by an amended meeting approved by the Legislature tomorrow. Its promulgation is the result of negotiations last week by Mayor Andy Dawson, M.L.A., Calgary.

OPENS FLOWER SHOP.—W. M. "Bill" Hornbeck who has opened up his own store the Corona Flower Shop in the Corona Hotel building. Interested in the flower business since his school days he has served an apprenticeship and prior to enlisting in the RCAF had been employed with a wholesale supply house. After arriving back here from service in the RCAF he took a vocational training course in floral designing and floral culture.

Drive to Help Polish People Opens on Nov. 11

Far outpouring the weakened cries of Poland's stricken, pleading for medical attention, supplies, food, clothing and shelter is the ominous voice of pandemic disease threatening not only Europe, but the rest of the world from its incursion in Poland and other populous centers, warned J. S. W. Grocholski, L.L.B., Toronto, campaign manager for the United Polish Relief Fund, when interviewed in Edmonton Wednesday.

"A type of influenza which if anything exceeds the virulence of the world epidemic following the First Great War has now gripped Poland and other parts of Europe adjacent to Poland," said the Toronto barrister.

TASK IS TERRIFIC

"The fight to confine its spread, let alone look after the afflicted, has been terrific. In Poland at the present time there is an average of 10,000 deaths a month, and valiantly attempting to cope with this situation is 70 per cent. lost doctors, that before the war in that area," he continued.

Mr. Grocholski is in Edmonton organizing the west in a Dominion-wide campaign for funds to help meet the alarming situation. Proceeds from collections during the campaign will go toward purchase of mobile hospital units which will be used in reaching remote areas of Poland in need of immediate attention.

In addition to this world threat there were more than a million Poles who had developed tuberculosis and contracted typhus, both of which diseases were taking a staggering toll of lives in the shattered and broken population of that country, he declared.

26,000 IN ALBERTA

The Polish population in Alberta was 26,000, and in Canada, 67,000, he stated. "We expect an immediate response from these people out of sympathy for the plight of their kindred," he said, "but all Canadians, remembering the aftermath of the First Great War, will realize that instant action is necessary in the interests of international health protection."

Edmonton's share of the $250,000 Dominion-wide campaign which opens Nov. 11 and closes Dec. 31 is $12,000, said Mr. Grocholski, and for the province of Alberta it totalled only $30,000.

Advance donations may be made to Rev. Fr. M. Kalusz, of Holy Rosary Church.

Request Extension Of Grain Holding

While the feed situation in Alberta is not immediately serious, the provincial ministry of agriculture has asked wheat board for an extension of the order holding 3,000 bushels which applies to elevators along an approximate 1,000-mile stretch of the border between Alberta and South Dakota.

The order expired Tuesday. Because there is sufficient feed at the present time, says A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner, does not assure there will still be sufficient at the end of the year and the beginning of the next. Extra-provincial demand is heavy and feed supplies are being moved out at most as fast as they can be loaded.

Water Transport In North at End

Water transportation on Canada's north-western rivers and lakes has ended for this season and is not likely to reopen until next June, according to W. F. Broderick, Edmonton manager of the Northern Transportation Company.

Crews from the company's boats are being flown to Edmonton as rapidly as space can be found for them on south bound planes. Some have already arrived and the remainder are expected here early next week.

A watchman left with a key of the boats, which in most cases are pulled up on the shore for the winter. In cases where it is not possible to beach the vessels every effort is made to secure a shelter behind shelter so that they will not be smashed when the river ice starts to move in late spring.

IT IS TIME FOR A CHANGE AT THE CIVIC BLOCK

• Edmonton has the unenviable reputation of being the dirtiest city on the continent because of the intolerable condition of its streets, inadequate garbage collection and generally untidy appearance. It is time to elect a vigorous new civic administration to remedy this condition. Harry D. Ainlay has been the one voice on the City Council demanding the changes our city needs. Elect him as Mayor and get a new policy at the Civic Block.

• Problems of housing, transportation, a revision of the agreement with the Calgary Power Company and a new deal for the outlying sections of the city, will get the attention they deserve if Harry Ainlay is elected as Mayor. All of the things Edmonton needs now to make our city what it ought to be have been advocated by Ainlay in the City Council for many years. He will give us a vigorous new policy if we elect him as Mayor.

CARNIVAL—"He's been here since noon—his parents must have gotten completely away by this time!"

The ROAD AHEAD

By Capt. HARPER PROWSE, M.L.A.

THOSE veterans who plan either to start their own business, or to go farming—and a recent survey showed that nearly 20 per cent of those awaiting discharge in the army plan to start their own business and 10 per cent plan to go farming—will do themselves a favor if they will find out all about "Benefit Number Three" of the "Awaiting Returns Benefit".

The post-discharge re-establishment order provides that a grant may be made to a discharged person who is awaiting returns from a farm or other agricultural undertaking or any other enterprise in which he is engaged on his own account.

Like benefits numbers one and four—out-of-pocket and temporarily incapacitated—it must be applied for within 12 months after discharge and is payable for a period not exceeding a man's period of service, and in no case for more than 24 weeks. Like one and four it is an outright grant and is not chargeable against his re-establishment credit.

RECEIVE UP TO $70

Under this benefit a single man may receive a sum not exceeding $50 per month, while a married man may receive sums up to $70 per month with the usual allowance for children. Each application, however, is dealt with on its own merits, and the department may decide to pay smaller sums than those mentioned above.

This grant is designed to help men during the first months in their new business or while they are waiting for the first crop from a farm. Obviously during those first months the cost of tools, equipment, and other necessities, combined with the ordinary costs Continued on Page Sixteen

Long Service RCMP Veteran Plans to Retire

Staff Sgt. E. D. Purser, chief clerk at "A" Division, C.D. RCMP in Edmonton since 1932, Thursday hung up his scarlet tunic as he prepared to leave the force and enter private life.

"Staff" Purser, as of Thursday, is now on the RCMP retired list, according to Staff Sgt. H. Darling, head of the C.D. in Edmonton. His profile as chief clerk was known to all who knew him.

He began his service in 1922, member of the force for 23 years. He served overseas for four years with the 31st Battalion, CEF, during the first great war, receiving the RCMP in 1920. He was twice wounded during war service.

Senior RCMP non-commissioned officer in the Edmonton headquarters, he was promoted to the rank of sergeant in 1932. He was made staff sergeant and appointed chief clerk.

Highly regarded as a valuable member of the force, Staff Sgt. Purser will continue to reside in Alberta.

Staff Sgt. Michael has been stationed with the Edmonton CID for nearly 10 years and is well-known as a rifle marksman. His home is in Edmonton.
